

National Fire Academy Criteria for Contract Instructor Selection

Course: Developing and Implementing Public Policy (R0670)

Curriculum: Fire Prevention: Management

This six-day course will empower students with the ability to create, evaluate and defend public policy in their home community. The course is also designed to facilitate understanding of how codes and regulations can be used as an effective component in fire prevention, fire mitigation and overall community risk reduction. The course will address how to use a risk assessment to prioritize risk; develop a problem statement and recommend a strategic prevention intervention using public policy; design a strategy to build support for a public policy, develop and submit a proposal; understand the issue resolution process; and market, apply and evaluate the new public policy.

Criteria for Contract Instructor Selection

All new contract instructors shall be evaluated in three consecutive course deliveries in accordance with the National Fire Academy's Contract Instructor Evaluation program. Existing contract instructors are subject to evaluation in accordance with this program.

1. Academic Requirement

The candidate should possess a minimum of a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education. The degree should be in a discipline closely related to the subjects covered in this course, public administration, emergency management, fire or safety engineering, engineering technology, project management, political science, project management, etc. Preference will be given to candidates possessing professional registration or certifications. Graduate degree is preferred related to the subject area.

2. Instructional Experience

- a. Candidates must demonstrate that they have experience in public policy development, adoption, implementation and evaluation and can facilitate learning to a diverse student population with a broad range of training and experience.
- b. Course attendance within the last three years as a student or contract instructor trainee.

3. Documented Knowledge and Experience in the Subject Area

Candidates must address in the submission their knowledge and experience in each of the following course topical areas:

- a. Code development and enforcement in fire and building codes as demonstrated by experience.

- b. How a public policy is proposed and how a strategy is built to support the use of public policy as a prevention intervention.
- c. How to facilitate a successful issue resolution process for a public policy.
- d. How to develop an implementation and application plan for a newly adopted public policy.
- e. How to evaluate the effectiveness of a public policy.

4. Continuing Practice or Education

Ability to maintain currency in the field and the specific course by:

- a. teaching a similar course at the college or university level;
- b. taking a similar course within the last five years;
- c. writing and researching a paper or article related to the course topic for at least one of the fire service or related disciplines' trade journals within the last two years; or
- d. attending and/or speaking at a conference related to the field at the local, state or national level within the last three years.

Failure to provide approved documentation of ongoing training or instruction may result in revocation of the contract instructor status.
